Yearbook Earners First Class

First class honor rating was added the 1964-65 BYU Yearbook at the Forty-Fifth National Yearbook Critical Service of the United Collegiate Press.

His organization operates the University of Minnesota School of Journalism, and the Ban-Submits copies of their publication annually.

First class honor rating is comparable to "excellent," while a few publications receive "All American honor rating" representing a "superior" book.

Other ratings include "second class," which is given to the majority of entries judged as "good" or "very good" and indicates that those yearbooks are of average work.

Third class rating represents "poor" to "good" publications, with a major weakness evident. A honor rating is given to Four-Star publications.

Merit Award Presented to Professor

BYU associate professor of political science, Dr. Robert H. Slover, has been awarded the Legion of Merit (First Oak Leaf Cluster) by U.S. Army.

The award, given for meritorious service, was for outstanding service from July 1963 to November 1964. Dr. Slover retired from the military last year.

During the time of the award he was a civil affairs officer with the U.S. Corps in Germany and also assistant to the commandant at the Army school in Ft. Gordon, Ga.

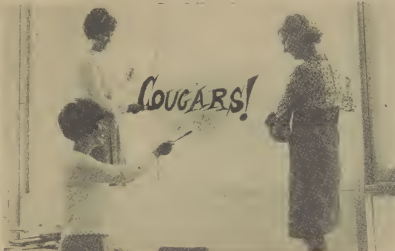

The award will be presented in a special ceremony by the commanding general of the U.S. Sixth Army, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif. and place for the presentation has not yet been announced.

Dr. Slover is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and received his doctorate from Harvard University. He joined the BYU faculty in 1951 following his Army retirement.

Universe Openings Announced by Staff

There are several openings for persons on the staff of the Daily Universe. Some of the special positions to be filled are Society Editor, Assistant Copy Editor.

Any student who wishes to apply for these positions is urged to do so as soon as possible in the office on the 5th floor of the Wilkinson Center.

Getting a head start on the annual Cougar Days Poster Contest are Sandra Pettersen, Lynda Parkin, and Brenda Phillips. The posters are to arouse enthusiasm for the BYU vs. Kansas State football game. Competition between the girls' and boys' dorms ends Friday.

Cougar Days Poster Competition To Incite Sport Season Enthusiasm

Tuesday marks the kick-off of BYU's annual Cougar Day's poster contest slated to continue until Friday. Competition is between all on-campus housing units, Jim Christensen, Student Relations official announced.

"THE PRIMARY PURPOSE of the contest," Christensen explained, "is to let the BYU Cougars know that the whole school is enthusiastic about the coming season; especially this Friday night's game with Kansas State."

He also said that after the judging on Thursday morning for the winning poster a prize will be given at the game. The prize will be a traveling trophy.

SUGGESTIONS for posters are to include a display on originality, the colors blue and white, and a mention of the Friday game.

Apartments, floors, or whole dorms are being asked to participate, putting their entries in the windows so everybody on campus can see them.

"GET THE paper, posters, paint, and work and let the team know they have the support of the student body," Christensen said.

Tuesday at 10 a.m. the annual Welcome Back Assembly is slated for the fieldhouse, with each student asked to sit with fellow students from his home state or country.

A PEP RALLY will be held

Thursday at 7:15 p.m. at the Provo City Hall.

Friday, designated as Blue and White Day, will wind up the week's events. BYU will meet Kansas State for the first home game of the season, and a dance will follow the game.

Cougar Days is being held earlier than usual in an effort to vitalize school spirit early in the school year, Sid Paulson, chairman of pep activities for the week explained.

More Cougar Days information may be obtained from the chairman Dave Mickel in the Student Relations office on the fourth floor of the Wilkinson Center.

Clinic Now Accepting New Fall Enrollments

New enrollments are now being accepted for fall semester, 1965, in the BYU Speech and Hearing Clinic according to Dr. Gordon M. Low, clinic coordinator.

ENLARGED clinic facilities in the Harris Fine Arts Center and increased college student enrollment in the speech and hearing area at BYU now make it possible for the clinic to provide communication therapy for an increased number of children and adults who have any of a variety of speech and hearing problems.

An added feature of the 1965-66 school year is a class for primary age mentally retarded children who will be given classroom instruction through the Special Education Department of the University, and communication therapy through the Speech and Hearing Clinic.

THOSE ACCEPTED for therapy usually must four days a week for one hour periods in group and/or individual therapy. Children in the mentally retarded class meet daily for a full school day.

Each client is assisted by an advanced student clinician who is directly supervised by one of the professional clinic staff.

MEMBERS of the speech and hearing faculty are David Hillier, Lorin Jex, Dr. Low, Ross Weaver and several other specialists as part time staff. Dr. Alton Morley is on leave this year to assume teaching duties at the Church College in Hawaii.

A nominal diagnostic and registration fee is charged for clients from the community. BYU students may enroll for therapy without additional student fees. The clinic conducts therapy programs each fall, spring and summer term. Parents or others interested in diagnostic interviews or in enrollment in the clinic should call Dr. Low at Ext. 2218.

Dairy Laboratory Has New Entrances

Two new entrances to the BYU Dairy Laboratory have recently been completed, Ben E. Lewis, official announced.

ONE ENTRANCE is from Phillips Lane and one from 900 East. He emphasized that the lab officials hoped this would facilitate customers using the service.

The lab teaches to the University Food Service facilities, student and faculty of BYU.

THE LAB is also an instructional part of the facilities of BYU and provides training in the processing and selling of dairy products.

Salzburg in Spring . . .

Travel Dept. Announces Semesters

BYU Travel Studies Department is now seeking sophomores wishing to study in France and Germany spring semester, Robert C. Taylor, supervisor, announced today.

APPLICATIONS are now being accepted for a semester of study at Salzburg, Austria or Genoa, France, he said. The deadline is Oct. 22 unless the group is filled before that date.

Each program is limited to 75 persons and the order of application will be considered in the selection of applicants. Taylor emphasized.

REQUIREMENTS for the program include a sophomore standing and the equivalent of two semesters of German or French. Courses will be taught by both BYU faculty and European instructors in languages, history, sociology, humanities, music, dramatic arts, religion and political science.

The first semester at Salzburg last spring attracted students from the University of Utah, Ricks College and Utah State University as well as BYU. Four BYU faculty members accompanied the 140 students on the study tour.

EACH PROGRAM offers side trips at additional cost to Switzerland, French Riviera, Milan, Venice and Rome. Those on the Salzburg tour will visit Czechoslovakia, Budapest, Rome, Venice, Munich and Southern Germany.

Both groups will leave Salt Lake City Jan. 30 and fly to Paris on chartered jet. At the end of the semester the program will take a three-week tour of Europe returning to Salt Lake City from London June 8.

For further information contact the Department of Travel Studies, 202 Harold R. Clark Building.

New Writing Garbles Block Y

BYU students returning for class on Monday morning got a bit of a jolt when they gazed up at the Y on the mountain.

SOMEONE WITH A yen for hiking and "white-paint artistry" added a word to the sparkling block Y. Most observers could not agree upon whether or not the word "run" or "rum" appeared on the mountain.

INFORMED SOURCES suspected the painting was the artistry of some BYU high students but a check with the school was able to reveal no information.

Meanwhile, "what's-its-word" remained glittering and white to the right of the Y—both at day and night.

50 Cuban Refugees Found Alive at Sea

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—The 124-foot fishing vessel El Amigo reported today it had picked up 50 Cuban refugees who had been without food for three days.

THE EL AMIGO, en route from Panama City, Panama, to Progresso, Mexico, notified the Coast Guard 7th District Headquarters here it picked up the refugees from two 30-foot boats 66 miles southwest of the Dry Tortugas.

A Coast Guard plane and a Navy plane were sent to orbit the vessel until the cutter Cape Darby could reach the scene from its Key West base.

THE EL AMIGO said it was unable to return the refugees to their boats because of weather conditions and was turning about to rendezvous with the Cape Darby.

The refugees were to be brought to Key West and turned over to immigration authorities, the Coast Guard said.

New Student Embarkment Upon Y Proves Most Interesting? Oh Yah!

The Union Pacific Zephyr roared into Provo at 4:44 Sunday afternoon. The Washington DC-8 landed in Provo at 5:13 Sunday afternoon. The OVERLANDO stage rambled into Provo at 6:29 Sunday afternoon. I came on my little brother's bicycle and I got there about 12:30 Monday morning.

I don't mind riding bicycles but I dislike the enthusiasm of the service station men. The janitor, I stopped to rest near a local station and the kind man with the star (not Matt Dillon) pumped fifteen gallons of oil into my little trike before I could stop him.

THAT WAS my first experience, about $5.50. I pulled into a parking lot filled with occupied cars. I thought it was a drive-in movie but it turned out to be a group of new freshman fast-movers giving Allied Van Lines a run for their money.

I walked confidently onto campus at about 8:32. The place looked like a post-Christmas lingerie sale at Auerbach's. I fought my way to the desk under the bold plaque marked Student Housing. After one hour and 40 minutes of waiting in line I cleared my throat.

A SWEET little lady asked, "Do you need help?" "Could I possibly find a room for the school year?" I replied. She looked at me blankly and then smiled, "You do need help, don't you?"

SHE THEN fumbled through her files for about ten minutes. The man in line behind me went to sleep. A fellow two rows over put up a tent and began cooking breakfast.

I snatched a piece of bacon when he wasn't looking and was promptly arrested for disturbing the peace. ABOUT THAT time the kind lady came back from the telephone and her files to announce with portentous dignity that I had a marvelous choice between a beat-house bed in the middle of Utah Lake and a medium sized second-hand, leaky light on the summit of Timp.

Then I tried to get in touch with my sister. I dialed the student listings and asked for a Maura Merriweather.

THE VOICE at the other end answered, "Sir, there are 17 Maura Merriweathers on campus."

There is one at 940 North and 471 West, and there is another one at .

I OROPPEO the phone. It shattered on the floor. Security showed up to arrest me for littering the floor. The janitor just grinned at me. I was towed away.

The next day I inquired about the cost of registration. I faintly. I recovered and walked to the nearest phone booth (four miles north of Payson) and called Dad. I told him to mortgage the house.

I was sick and fed up. "Mother," I screamed, "I want my mother!" Twenty-two hungry looking females rushed toward me.

"Well, well," I called but nobody answered. The great stone column in front of the Wilkinson Center just smiled and left.

Shastri Pledges to Fight Chinese

NEW DELHI, INDIA, (AP)—Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri declared Monday Communist China has fired the first shots across the Indian border in a campaign to dominate all of Asia. He said India will fight back.

THUS, after three years of uneasy peace in the Himalayas, the two giants of Asia seemed on the verge of picking up where they left off after their border conflict in the fall of 1942.

China, with 650 million people, was bitterly denouncing India for alleged border violations along more than 1,000 miles of mountain frontier separating the Chinese army from the Indian plain.

RED TROOP movements were reported in half a dozen areas, from the Indian Protectorate of Sikkim in the east to the Ladakh region of Kashmir State in the West.

Shastri told Parliament the Communist had fired across the border with Sikkim and from Red-ruled Tibet into Ladakh.

INDIA, A NATION of 400 million people, showed no sign of backing down and Shastri indicated he feels a fundamental confrontation between the two nations has reached explosion point.

"The basic objective of China," he said, "is to claim for itself a position of dominance in Asia which no self-respecting nation in Asia is prepared to recognize."

"Every Asian country has a right to independence and sovereignty," he said, and "the dominance of the Chinese cannot be accepted by any of them."

AS FOR INDIA, Shastri said it will "reject China's claim to tell us anything about what we should or should not do about Kashmir"—the Himalayan state whose ownership is a basic cause of India's war with Pakistan.

Parliament cheered Shastri, but one Socialist leader jumped up to ask whether Shastri had ordered the Indian army to fire back at the Chinese. Shastri replied:

"I would merely wish to say we will resist them, we will fight them."

The threat from Peking took up almost all of Shastri's remarks in Parliament. As for the United Nations Security Council Resolution calling for an India-Pakistan ceasefire, Shastri said it needed careful study and that he might comment on it Tuesday.

Hudspeth Praises Y Gridders

"Our boys just played their hearts out on Saturday night," reported head coach Tommy Hudspeth. "Carter, Ogden, Nance, Odie and all the others did a fine job. Our kids weren't about to be out-hustled."

A SPECIAL word of praise was given the Cougar defense: "Our defensive unit is rather young, but they didn't give ground on the vital goal line stand. To me, it was one of the highlights of the entire game."

Turning to the subject of this week's workouts, Hudspeth was adamant about keeping the team's momentum. "Any player who even looks like he knows the meaning of complacency will find himself out of there in a hurry."

Only one player, defensive half-back Curg Belcher, was injured in the game with Arizona State. Belcher suffered an eye injury that could keep him out of action this weekend, perhaps longer.

As a service to readers, the Daily Universe is beginning a series of articles which will run weekly, written by experts, to increase students' bowling enjoyment.

Bowling with the Stars . . .

Personal Ball - More Pir

by Dick Weber
AMF Staff of Champions

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of bowling tips for every bowler from the beginner to the advanced. This 10-part bowling series, which will run weekly in the Universe, is designed so that readers will find each part of the series helpful and easy to follow. This instructional series will be more important if readers will clip and save the entire set as a reference for the future.)

For higher scores and more enjoyment in bowling, it is a necessity to have your own bowling ball.

WHY? TOO MANY newcomers to the game are developing bad bowling styles around an improperly fitted bowling ball. The result is that when you discover your take it takes twice as long to rectify since you must adapt to a grip and feel in the ball.

Therefore, I recommend that newcomers purchase their bowling ball as quickly as possible. A ball drilled especially to your hand, with the proper weight, insure greater accuracy and higher scores.

I RECOMMEND a conventional grip (one where the fingers inserted up to the second joint) and leave semi-finger-tip and finger-tip grips to the better bowlers (170 and over).

I am often asked, "What weight ball should I use?"

MY ANSWER is, "I don't know." The weight is usually based on size and relative strength of individual concerned.

The American Bowling Congress says that a ball cannot weigh more than 16 pounds, but it is useless to throw a 16-pound ball if you cannot control a ball of this weight.

ACCURACY is your object! If necessary, sacrifice one, two, even three pounds to insure accuracy and control.

You MUST control the ball! DON'T let the ball control you!

Cats' WAC Victory First In Two Years

Brigham Young University's Cougars Monday owned their first league victory in more than two seasons of Western Athletic competition.

THE COUGARS' win over Arizona State was their initial league victory since November 17, 1962 (when they tipped Wyoming 14-7) and they couldn't have picked a better time or a more respected opponent to end the drought of conference victories.

The victory left BYU, a club tabbed in pre-season polls for the cellar, in a first-place tie with Arizona.

JACK BATCHLER, a former Daily Universe sports editor, covered the action at Tempe for his alma mater and returned with some very interesting observations.

Local support (in Arizona) for the Cougars, he said, was great. A great many Arizonans have attended the Y and Latter-day Saints seemed to have turned out en masse.

THE SUN DEVILS, favored by most experts by three touchdowns, were surprised to be sure, but they weren't alone. A somewhat pleased veteran photographer on the sidelines was heard to comment, "I heard that you had improved, but this is really impressive."

Fans were partisan in Tempe, as of course they are everywhere, but even they had to let their enjoyment of really good football slip through. They weren't at all slow to acknowledge the fine Cougar play.

Perhaps the greatest compliment though, one which was on everyone's tongue, was voiced by Batchler himself. He left a film at the office (including the picture at the left) saying, "I hope like heck that I got some good shots . . . this team deserves some."

BYU will shoot for its second straight win of the season Friday night in its home-opener against Kansas State.

Grid Figures Listed For Tempe Game

Virgil Carter, BYU quarterback, averaged 154 yards per game in 1964, set out to better that performance by running and passing for 217 yards Saturday night.

CARTER, A JUNIOR, made all the right moves in directing the Cougar offense to 230 yards rushing and 134 yards in the air for a combined total of 400 yards net gain.

Four players scored six points each for the winning Cougars. Phil Idle scored on a five yard pass from Carter. John Ogden scored on a two-yard plunge after taking a hand-off from Carter; and Carter scored once on a keeper from the line.

GUARD DAVE Duran scored six points on three point-after-touchdown kicks, and made good on the only BYU field goal attempt of the night, a 28-yard kick.

Due to the ability of the Cougar offense to move the ball, punter Ken Lavery had only two kicks during the game but averaged 44.5 yards per kick.

END PHIL ODLE was the leading pass receiver for the Cougars. He caught five of Carter's throws for a total of 92 yards and one touchdown.

Kent Orbn, the WAC leader in punt and kickoff returns in 1964, made a bid to repeat that honor by averaging 19.5 yards in six punt returns and returned one kickoff 21 yards.

They take American friendship with them ...everywhere they go!

They're not the kind of men who often make news. But they carry American friendship—and ideas—into some of the most out-of-the-way places on earth. They are Standard Oil geologists, engineers, technicians.

They explore primitive jungles, deserts, tundras, bayons, even the ocean bottoms, for oil.

When they find oil in far-off places, many other benefits follow. The local country gains a new source of energy, new jobs, new revenues, improved living standards. American cooperation makes stronger friendly nations.

Standard Oil men are more than oil-hunters. They are goodwill ambassadors. They take American friendship with them . . . everywhere they go!

Standard opened another frontier, America's first service station, in Seattle, in 1907. From this proud tradition, the man at the Sign of the Chevron serves you with today's highest quality S.O. Products.
